Dedication

When we began thinking of people we could dedicate the yearbook to, we realized how many people really deserved it. The one person that stood out from the rest was Mr. Bailey. We feel that in the short time he has been here he has made many friends among the students and the faculty. His easygoing nature and ability to make people laugh has added much to our school year. On behalf of the whole school we thank you very much Mr. Bailey.

EDITORIAL

This year, 1972-73, is most likely full of pleasant memories for you as it is for me. I hope that this year's yearbook captures some of those memories for you and preserves them for years to come. Many people feel that you can't hold on to today because tomorrow has to come. I hope that our yearbook can at least partially save today despite tomorrow for many.

Once again this year we used a western theme. After much consideration we came to the decision that no other theme suits the Big Wheel as well.

I have to admit that we never would have completed the yearbook without the cooperation of many people. Wendy Giese and Cheryl Kostiuk joined the staff later on in the year, and without them we never would have met our deadline. Lynn Healy and George Carmichael also deserve thanks for donating a number of drawings. I would especially like to thank Mrs. Switzer and Miss Borden for doing all the typing you see in this book.

Now that another year has come to an end the yearbook staff wishes all of you the best of luck and a very happy holiday.

President

In the past three years I have attended Hillcrest, I have learned many things which will enable me to continue my education. Along with these, I have learned something else you find in every subject and which plays a very important part in growing up. Responsibility!

A person doesn't really know what it means until he experiences it. This year , when I became president, I did not really know of the responsibility I had accepted. I was lucky to have many kind people working with me to help organize and plan the activities of the past year.

I would like to thank these people: Shannon Wiggins, Leslie Preston, Karen Wurtz, Debbie Strudwick, Nancy Choppen, Blake Kyle and John Good for all their time, patience and efforts. I would also like to express my thanks to the teachers and students for their cooperation and participation in those activities.

Last of all, on behalf of the Booster Club and myself, we wish everyone happiness and good luck in the coming years and I hope they will have the same fond memories of Hillcrest to carry along with them that I do.

Principal's Message

"The Years Beyond"

The graduating class of 1973 from Hillcrest Junior High is my first class. During my first year as principal, you were the lost, frustrated grade sevens. Now, you are the sophisticated grade nines. --How very quickly time passes by us.

Each of you should take a casual glance behind you! What fond memories you can recall! However, do not look behind very long, because you must be concerned with moving forward. For this year's class let us choose the theme "The Years Beyond."

In many ways education has meant an enlargement of your vision regarding the discovery of the world around you. During the last nine years you have learned to look beyond the present time and place. A poet once said, "no man is an island unto himself." This means that each of you must be a part of something bigger. All of you must be careful that the larger goal or purpose to which you attach yourselves is really worthy of your effort. You must always be looking up towards something higher and much better. The selection of the theme, "The Years Beyond," indicates that your thoughts after junior high should be of the future years. Do you have a concern of what those years hold in store for each of you? The "Years Beyond" will bring you new horizons and allow you to blaze new trails. As You thrilled to excitement in grade school, you shall thrill to other new adventures in "The Years Beyond."

Yearbook

Graduation is not a stopping point. Rather, it is a starting point for what lies ahead. You must realize that each day you are laying stepping stones for the days that follow. You must be aware that you build, day by day, your personalities and foundations for the future. You must realize that your growth cannot be like Athena, the Goddess of Wisdom, in the Greek legend, who sprang from her father's brow, fully grown. You must grow day by day in wisdom, just as your bodies grew from babyhood to teenage.

Take some time and express your deep and sincere thanks to your parents who have patiently led you and sometimes driven you along the paths of learning. The diploma which you shall receive will have your name on it, but it is really the united efforts of your parents, teachers and friends.

We hope that your education will help you to grasp opportunities with a firm hand. It is our hope that the world will be better in some small way because we are in it. We don't anticipate being famous, but neither do we wish to be infamous.

The Staff and Administration hope that you have happiness, security, love and peace in "The Years Beyond."

J. D. Bright
Principal

Vice-Principal's Message

As we reach the end of another school year, it is my hope that you have acquired some of the underatandings and attitudes which will steer you on the way to success. Knowledge alone does not ensure success, even though much of your time in school is spent in acquiring knowledge. More important is the understanding that knowledge brings you and the attitudes you have toward it and yourselves.

To be successful in each of your courses at school you will have to show some measure of self discipline. You will have decided that it is your own responsibility to learn as much about the subject as you can. You will not wait for your teacher to try to force you to do your assignments but will put forth your best effort because you want to learn as much as you can for your own sake.

The acceptance of responsibility for your own behaviour is the first indication of maturity and the first step on the road to success. I'm sure most of you have gone a little farther along that road this year.

Band

SENIOR BAND

Again this year Hillcrest produced several bands that would make any schoo proud. Each of the many bands performed well at several concerts both inside and outside the school. The Concert Band entertained at several concerts, including the Christmas Concert and Bandathon. Among their other excursions were trips to neighboring elementary schools. This year the Stage Band was added to the ranks of Hillcrest Junior High Bands. If it wasn't for the hard work and determination of Mr. Smith, Mr. Adams and the band members, none of this would be possible.

Sports

Activities

Girls' Sports Activities

HOUSELEAGUE ACTIVITIES:

Organized leagues this year included girls volleyball, co-ed volleyball, girls basketball, track and field, and co-ed softball. Also included were impromptu gymnastic sessions in the early spring and a Hart Time Dance to culminate a dance unit during class time.

INTERSCHOOL SPORTS:

There are three activities available for girls: volleyball, basketball and track and field. The girls teams represented Hillcrest in fine form by winning their way into the zone finals in both volleyball and basketball, and managed to finish third out of ten schools in both sports. From the potential track stars this year, we anticipate a very successful season at all of the meets. Unfortunately no junior teams were carried this year, due mainly to the lack of available coaches.

REGULAR CLASSES:

Following seasonal trends, classes started off with such outdoor games as soccer, speedball and bordenball. The late, but warm autumn was a perfect setting for a few cross-country jaunts. Once indoors, volleyball was underway. This was followed by an extensive gymnastics unit, brief introduction to folk dance and an intermingling of low organization games. With a return to spring conditions, the track and field season is in full swing. The year will be rounded out with softball and a few tournaments.

OPTION PROGRAM:

The girls option program this year was designed mainly to supplement the regular physical education program. The girls became more involved in soccer, tried their hand at football, field hockey, co-ed volleyball, officiating, social dance, floor hockey, basketball, Indiaca and badminton. In the more recreational fields, curling, cycling, skiing field trip, orienteering and camping are included at certain grade levels.

Boys' Sports Activities

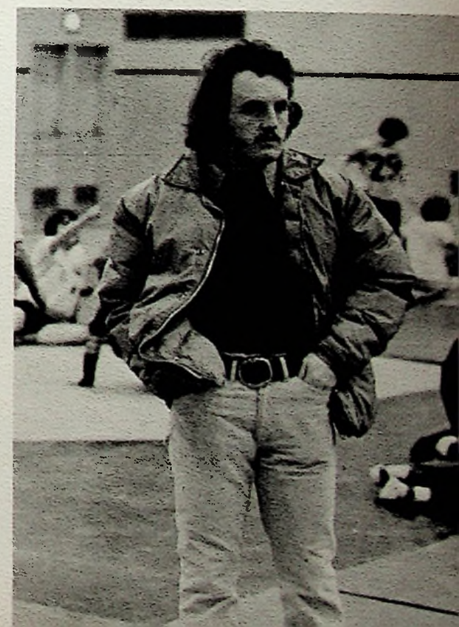

The year that has passed has been another successful one here at Hillcrest. Participation in the athletic program was at a high point all year. In the regular Physical Education program this year the newer activities like, co-ed dancing and volleyball, continental handball, floor hockey, and officiating were a welcome addition to the core program.

The cross-country run that came early in the year had two hundred boys start and finish. The intramural program this year included soccer, co-ed volleyball and basketball. This year the teachers entered a team in co-ed volleyball, but they failed in their bid for the championship.. Fun and participation are two words to best describe intramurals. Inter-scholastically, our teams were again quite successful. The boys soccer team went to the finals in the zone as did the boys volleyball team. The volleyball players went through their season with a record of eight wins no losses before losing in the playoffs to the eventual city champions. The senior and junior boys basketball teams played well this year, and things look very promising for next year.

The wrestling team had its most successful year, finishing third in the city and included five city champions among its members.

Track and Field promises to be successful and alot of fun this year. I would personally like to thank Ron Schesnuk, Robin Chemago and Ron McDonald for their help in coaching and organizing soccer, basketball and our two very enjoyable camping trips.
